Follow-on Support

Logistics Support is crucial,
no matter who runs the System.

Follow-on Support

May Global International Trading Limited Company
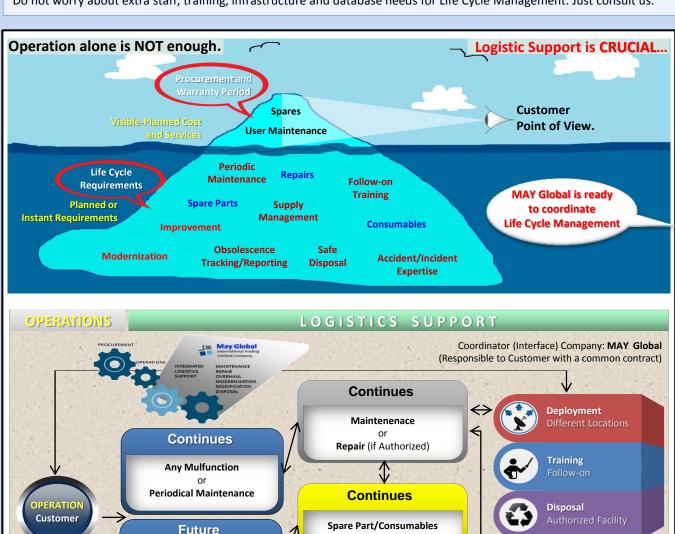

The biggest mistake made in an organization (line/mass production, research and development, test range, etc.) is that the requirements that are needed throughout the life cycle can not be precisely identified in advance and managed. Therefore, the system tries to stay operational with inefficient or expensive technologies after the period of time following the end of the warranty period.

We have experienced staff who have worked in this field for many years. For this reason, we can ensure that any organization's Life Cycle Management requirements can be identified and implemented by our company.

Do not worry about extra staff, training, infrastructure and database needs for Life Cycle Management. Just consult us.

Operation alone is NOT enough.
